

Figure S4. Gene expression values (average counts per million) plotted against gene region methylation data (average fraction methylated). Histograms are printed on the side to show where the majority of data points cluster. The blue density graph overlay is used to show the density of the data.